

"If Mine Only Had a Hot Spot Like a Chalmers"

THOSE who drive a Hot Spot Chalmers hear a comment now and then like this; but the unconcealed respect, the unconcealed envy from the men they rub fenders with is a compliment more often observed.

The public is quick to recognize high efficiency in a motor car. It knows, for instance:

1. How Hot Spot and Ram's-horn "pulverize" gas.
2. How they get out all the power that nature put in.
3. How they well-nigh eliminate vibration.
4. How they furnish a new kind of power.
5. How they keep the car out of the repair shop.
6. How they often go 10,000 miles without a penny's outlay on the car.
7. How they entice a mechanical mind, and charm a woman's sense of comfort.
8. How they make Chalmers one of the few great cars of the world.

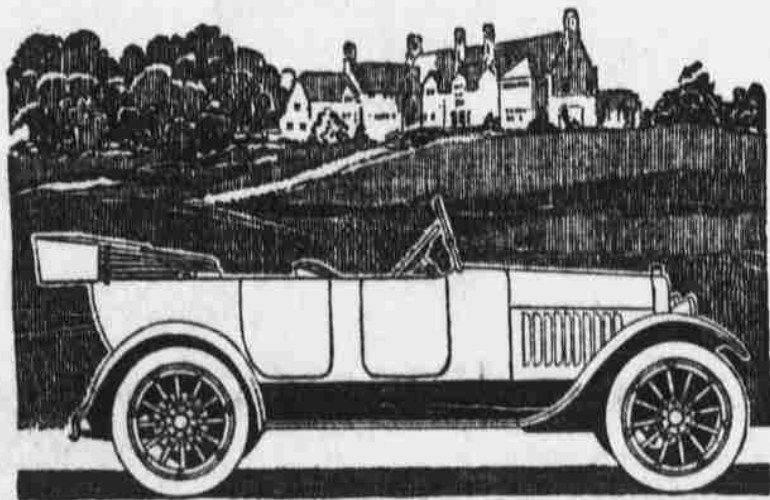

There is a Hot Spot Chalmers ready for you right here to give you that one ride you'll so long remember.

WATCHES

Diamond Encrusted Platinum
Sautoir and Wrist Watches

With their original designing, each one quite different from the rest, there is a pleasing delight to inspect this season's showing of such new things in ladies' wrist watches. They represent rare conceptions—quite enough to distinguish our collection as one far in advance of other jewelry stores.

For the lady who has her heart set on a dainty timepiece—there are innumerable wrist watches doubly attractive because of their moderate range in price and attractive designing.

And a word about men

The display really is a store in itself. The numerous shapes and sizes selected to secure as wide a varied a stock as possible—gives choice unlimited to men in watches of gold and gold-filled (guaranteed) cases and movements. It is needless to say the representation is from foremost American manufacturers.

NEEDS MADE BIG GAINING POINT FOR FEED

Work Begun on Plant Which Will Handle Molasses by the Ship Loads—Products Go
All Over Country.

Ground was broken this week for the foundation of the big 750,000 gallon molasses storage tank that J. L. Neasey & Co., distributors for the Sugar Products company of New York, building on the river front between Illinois and Wisconsin avenues on the old incline track of the Frisco railroad, to receive blackstrap molasses imported directly from Cuba, Porto Rico, Santo Domingo and Venezuela in ocean-going steamships. The contractor expects to begin pouring concrete for the foundation Monday, and the contract calls for the completion of the steel tank in the middle of November. Material for the second tank of the same size is expected to arrive before the first tank is completed.

The plant will be just double the size originally planned. Mr. Neasey has closed a lease with the Frisco railroad owners of the property, for additional frontage on the river, which will give the company double the amount of ground covered by the first lease. On the additional ground the company will build a fireproof brick or concrete warehouse, 200 feet long by 100 feet wide, to handle the export grain and grain products business, which is to supply return cargoes for the vessels arriving here with molasses. The export of grain, cotton seed oil meal, alfalfa, meal and other products of mixed feeds, for manufacture in Cuba, promises to become an important item in the business.

Superior Trade Center.

When it was announced that the Sugar Products company intended to import one of the principal ingredients of all mixed feeds directly from the molasses mills in the West Indies to Memphis and thereby reduce the transportation charges to a point that would make an appreciable difference in the selling price, the mixed feed factories of the country at once took notice, and the inquiries received indicated a business that the plant as at first planned would have been entirely inadequate to handle.

When the fact was established that Memphis could be regularly reached by steamships from foreign ports, the mixed feed industry of the country began to inquire into Memphis' distributing facilities. It was found that its railroad connections were among the best of any city in the country. Before the railroad had been built, the city was the terminus of about 50 transportation companies were represented here, nearly all of which will reopen offices here when the railroads go back to private control. With the advantage of river competition, Memphis was found to have freight rates that made it equaled by any other city as a distributing center.

Tremendous Tanks.

The storage tanks are 65 feet in diameter by 30 feet high. Instead of the two tanks with a capacity of 1,500,000 gallons, the company is now considering the erection of four with a total capacity of 3,000,000 gallons. The system of loading tank cars from the storage tanks by steam presses, enables eight cars with a capacity of 4,000 gallons each to be loaded in 20 minutes. At the same time the box cars containing grain and grain products may be unloaded into the warehouse for export.

When the tank steamers are drained of molasses the hulls will be cleaned out by steam pressure, which after being turned into the tanks for about 12 hours, leaves the sides clean. The sides are then to be brushed down and dried by a mechanical process, so that the hull can then be loaded with the return cargo of grain products. An endless belt conveyor will carry the grain from the warehouse to the ships for loading.

Work on the pier and landing wharf will be started in a short time.

Old-Year Navigation.

The Sugar Products company has recently placed an order for 250 steel tank cars in addition to about 175 that it already owns, to be used in transporting molasses to the mixed feed manufacturing plants throughout the country. The company now owns 12 tank steamships. The largest of these has a cargo capacity of 1,000,000 gallons and draws but 14 feet of water. These barges draw but four feet of water and have a capacity of from 135,000 to 175,000 gallons.

When completed the Memphis distributing plant will be able to handle from 12,000,000 to 20,000,000 gallons of molasses per year. In addition to carload lot distribution the company will install a barrel filling station for distributing smaller quantities.

Memphis is one of the leading mixed feed manufacturing centers in the United States, eight companies having plants here with an investment of some 120,000,000, but these companies will consume but a small part of the molasses imported here. It will be shipped from here to Texas, Oklahoma, as far west as Colorado, north to Canada, into Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, and throughout the Southeast.

ACTRESS TELLS SECRET

Tells How to Darken Gray Hair
With a Home-Made Mixture

Joice Williams, the well-known actress who was recently playing at the Imperial theater in St. Louis, made the following statement about gray hair and how to darken it.

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray, streaked or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add one ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and one-quarter ounce of glycerine.

"These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."

TO RELIEVE CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing deaf, hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete cures after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you are the middle-aged person who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formidable prescription from the middle of the page and add to it a pint of water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmit is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation of the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excruciating neuralgia of the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Persons who have catarrh in any form, or distressing rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.

Moving Pictures

Majestic.

In Nudge Kennedy's new picture, "Strictly Confidential," which comes to the Majestic theater, beginning today, only 53 titles are used to tell a five-part story. This is a record for a picture of this length. The picture contains about seventy captions. The action of the story is unusually quick and spontaneous. Some follows scene in rapid succession, and the stars' clear screen articulation brings out the dialogue better than titles can.

In this play, taken from a story by Jerome K. Jerome, Miss Kennedy is introduced as a member of a troupe of one-night players, touring the rural districts. Later, after a success in the London Music Hall, she becomes the wife of Lord Bankton. Her husband is jealous of her, but tries to overcome his suspicions of his beautiful actress wife. She has been cruelly harassed by her 23 servants, each one being a relative of a personal opinion as to how she should conduct herself. However, an entente cordiale is eventually reached, and the happy ending comes to bless both the servants' hall and the Bankton castle.

Strand.

Particular interest attaches to the presentation of "His Majesty the American," the Douglas Fairbanks picture which is now running at the Strand theater, because it is the offering of United Artists corporation—the so-called "Big Four." Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks and D. W. Griffith, in January of 1919, decided to enter the motion picture field as independent producers and distributors, releasing their pictures direct to the theaters of the country.

Fairbanks was the first to complete a picture on the new basis and thus, what was undoubtedly the biggest combination of screen artists, was actually in operation less than a year after its inception.

Princess.

Director William Worthington says that "The Dragon Painter," which is the attraction again today at the Princess, is the finest production pictorially. Sessue Hayakawa has ever appeared in. "I can safely say that 'The Dragon Painter' surpasses in artistry and settings anything the Haworth company has ever put on," said Mr. Worthington.

"The charm of the story, too, its very simplicity and beauty, the love theme running through it, makes it an admirable vehicle for both Mr. Hayakawa and Tsuru Aoki."

"The Dragon Painter" is a beautiful love legend of old Nippon, with Hayakawa in the role of a wild mountain artist who dreams some day of meeting his "Dragon Princess," the embodiment of his dream of beauty and love.
